

Exemptions from language courses

Can I be exempt from the “English as a foreign language” course and exam since I have the International Baccalaureate Diploma and an IELTS certificate?

Students who submit an international language certificate, or another document confirming their language proficiency can be exempt from the language course. Both the International Baccalaureate Diploma and an IELTS certificate will exempt you from taking the course.

If I have an FCE Cambridge Certificate at B2 level can I be exempt from the B2+ course?

You need the C1 level to be exempt from B2+ course. On our website there is a list of list of certificates on the basis of which you can be exempt from our courses:
<https://spnjo.uwr.edu.pl/en/b2-course/>

I work and I can't attend classes twice a week. What are my options?

We have strict regulations and attending classes is obligatory for our students. You will not be permitted to attend classes from time to time since full time students can miss only 5 classes in a given semester (part time students can miss 20% of classes). If the number of absences is higher, students fail the semester. You can be exempt from attending classes if you have an international certificate at level C1.